VOL. II. RALEIGH, N. C., SATURDAY EVENING, MARCH 23, 1867. NO. 192.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

MEETING OF THE COLORED PEOPLE OF COLUMBIA—ADDRESS BY GENERAL WADE HAMPTON, E. J. ARTHUR AND OTHERS.

In pursuance of a notice published in Sunday's Phœnix, the colored citizens of the district assembled in large numbers at the African Methodist Episcopal Church, yesterday morning, at 9 o'clock, and, after forming a procession of their various societies, marched through the principal streets, headed by a band of music, to the vacant square on Plain street, just beyond Nickerson's Hotel, where addresses were delivered by Gen. Wade Hampton, the Hon. W. F. DeSaussure, Colonel William H. Talley, Hon. E. J. Arthur and James G. Gibbes, Esq., (who had been specially invited by the committee to address the colored people,) and Beverly Nash and the Rev. D. Pickett, (freedmen.)

General Hampton spoke of the vast importance of the present movement—not only to the colored, but the white man. He advised the freedmen to give their friends at the South a fair trial, and if they were found wanting, it was then time enough to go abroad for sympathy. It was to their interest to build up the South; for as the country prospered, so would they prosper. The present state of affairs was not brought about by the action of the Southern people—white or black: therefore, neither was responsible for it.

Hon. E. J. Arthur said he was unable to deliver a lengthy address, as he was not prepared for such an undertaking. He was surprised at being called on for a speech, and could only give a few words of counsel. The occasion of this celebration is one in which you have had no agency. It is not the act of the white men of your country.—It has been conferred upon you by the Northern Congress; and he hoped that it would be the means of enlightening and improving their mental and moral condition. He, in conjunction with the white citizens of the South, would endeavor to assist them, by all the means in their power, to accomplish that end. They had the right of franchise, and he advised them to exercise it with good judgment. To learn to fully appreciate these great privileges which are being conferred upon them, they should educate themselves and their children. It is the duty and the interest of the white men to help the colored men in their educational and moral training. If we were actuated by interest alone, we should rather contribute to than attempt to retard their advancement. They are politically the equals of the whites, and education will go far to make them morally and mentally so. Let there be no war of races among us—let us look to each other's welfare. It is true that many of the whites are deprived of the political rights which the colored men will enjoy, but that should not, and will not, create envious and unkind feelings. He concluded by advising them to regard the white men who have been born and reared among them, as friends; let no harsh feelings exist between us; look to each others' welfare and happiness; and last, though not least, look to your educational and moral improvement.

Wm. H. Talley, Esq., said he fully appreciated the confidence and respect manifested in the invitation to address his colored friends in relation to the condition of the country; and would, under other circumstances, have attempted a full discussion of the subject. But the subject itself was one so vast in importance, and the notice of such a meeting so brief, that he did not purpose doing more than to indicate his heart's concurrence in some of the views already presented, intending thereby to add his testimony to their correctness. He said that they had heard that the interests of the white man and the colored man of the South were the same. They are parts of the same society, inhabiting the same land, under the same sun, breathing the same atmosphere; and, if the lessons of history and reason taught anything, they taught that, under such circumstances, the two races must prosper or perish together. Difference of soil, climate and government are the principal causes of difference, and consequent conflict of interest. In a vast country, with a wide range of climate and almost infinite variety of soil, there must naturally, perhaps necessarily, arise such conflict. Legislation which may be productive of good results to one portion of such a country, may be utterly disastrous to another. But, with the same soil and climate, and surrounded by circumstances the same in all essential particulars, the white man and the colored man of the South have the same interest, the same destiny. It was impossible, at this time, to mark out and recommend any particular line of policy. Everything was in doubt and confusion. Trade, the mechanic arts, every department of industry, were palsied by the uncertain, unsettled condition of affairs. The Country can know no prosperity without peace, and that end can be attained only by discarding all elements of strife, and promoting harmony and concert of action. The advice which common sense gives to the colored population of the South, in the present emergency, is, to try those of the community whom you have known—those who have hitherto proved themselves worthy of confidence—those who have the same interest. Unite with those. If these deceive you, it will be time enough to experiment on the sympathies of strangers.—He said he knew he expressed the feeling of the intelligent people of the South, when he said that they cherished no semblance of hostility toward the colored man on account of his altered circumstances. The enemies of the South will endeavor to foment dissensions and jealousies, for the purpose of still farther tearing, weakening and plundering our already desolated land; but if the Southern people, white and colored, stand united, there is ground to hope that our children, if not ourselves, may enjoy a long period of tranquility and peace, of prosperity and happiness.

Beverly Nash replied to the generally expressed statement of the white speakers, that they were disfranchised, by stating that the colored people would present such a strong and unanimous petition to Congress, that attention would be paid to it—in fact, the colored men would not rest until the whites had been enfranchised. He had respect for a man who upheld his principles at the point of the bayonet; whereas, skulkers and so-called Union men at the South he could designate as nothing better than traitors. He advocated universal suffrage—believing that the driver of a one-horse cart was as much entitled to that right as the owner of a block of buildings. He quoted freely from history to show the importance of the right of suffrage, and advised the colored people, in the selection of their candidates, to look to merit alone. As to not knowing who or what they would be called on to vote for, the candidates would take care of that, and by speeches and conversations, post them thoroughly.

The Rev. D. Pickett stated that he wanted it distinctly understood that he was no office seeker. The good of his people was his first consideration. He was opposed to universal suffrage for two reasons—the want of education and a property qualification. The first was readily attainable, and the last, by industry and economy, would surely come. Speaking of elections, he said that the question should not be whether a candidate was black or white, but was he honest?

The Hon. W. F. DeSaussure and James G. Gibbes, Esq., delivered short addresses, after which the procession was reformed and marched back to the church.

The strictest order prevailed, which is partially due to the excellent management of Chief Marshal William Simons and other influential members of the various associations.

In the evening a torchlight procession was formed, and calls were made upon Chancellor Carroll, W. K. Bachman, Esq., and other prominent citizens, who delivered impromptu addresses, when the celebrationists returned to their rendezvous and were dismissed.—Col. Phœnix, 19th.

A Milwaukie paper tells of a boy who made fast to a sturgeon with a boat hook, but was jerked into the water, and drawn at a furious rate some distance into the lake, until compelled by exhaustion to loose his hold. A fish story.

NOTICE!

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN!

There will be a vessel to sail from the port of Wilmington, on or about the third of April, to Sindad Bolivia, Venezuela, for the purpose of taking out any emigrants that may go to look or locate. Passage $8 in coin or its equivalent.

I have land titles to give to all Confederate soldiers, (1280 acres,) who will go, and passage for the above $68. I have reserved stock to sell to any other person for $168, including passage out.

I will say, for the information of parties, that there have left for Venezuela, since November last, the rise of 2,100 emigrants.

Dr. H. M. Price, and some of the Directors, are now on their way out to hold elections and frame the government.

There have been 40,000 shares of stock in this Company sold to a banking-house in England, which will soon enable the Company to carry into effect their design of putting on a line of Steamers from the Southern States to Bolivia This town has about 7,000 inhabitants, one half of whom are English. WE OFFER TO THE PUBLIC THIS CELEbrated Oil, and in doing so we unhesitatingly pronounce it SUPERIOR TO ANY BURNING OIL IN USE It is Non-Explosive. Free from Grease. It will not grease the hands. It will not soil or grease the clothing. It is more brilliant than Gas. It produces a soft and beautiful light. It is not so trying to the eyes. It can be used in any Kerosene Lamp by adopting our

LIGHT HOUSE OR RATCHET BURNERS.

It has been most favorably received, and pronounced by judges to be the now in the market; and in consequence of the many serious accidents arising from the EXPLOSION OF KEROSENE, this Oil is extensively known and used in preference.

We are now prepared to furnish the trade with this valuable Oil, and we solicit from the public an examination and trial.

We have on hand a large stock of

LAMPS, BURNERS, CHIMNEYS, WICKS, &C.,

SATURDAY EVENING, MARCH 23, 1867.

AGRICULTURAL PROSPECTS—THE SITUATION, &c.

The continuance of the present unseasonable weather, we fear, will not only greatly retard farmers in their preparations for the approaching crops, but must affect, to a greater or less extent, the quantity and quality of the crops. This may, however, in a great measure be overcome by great energy and a good cropping season in future.

Discouraging, therefore, as the prospect now is, we hope the farmers in all parts of the State will exert themselves to seed as large a crop as possible, and avail themselves of the best fertilizers at hand.

There is nothing, now, which concerns every department of Southern society so much, in matters pertaining to their material interests, as a successful year's work in all departments of labor. Our political affairs, however discouraging, are reduced within so small a compass, and the duties of the people in regard to them are so few, as really to require but little consumption of time. There is one point, however, against which we must warn our readers.—Your material interests—your farming, your merchandise, your mechanism, your manufacturing, &c., must not be neglected.—Every thing must be done to promote them. Yet the worrying and disagreeable character of our political status must not make you totally indifferent to it. Thousands of persons in the State have seen, for years, so little good to result to them from voting, that they are setting down into the purpose never to vote again. This is confined to no particular class of society—perhaps to no party. We regard this as a most dangerous sign of the times. We conceive that the necessity for having your names registered as voters, and of actually voting, was never greater. Little as many esteem that privilege under present circumstances, they will feel it a great indignity and privation when that right is taken away. Indifference and carelessness, at a crisis like this, in those cases where men are allowed to vote, may become crime. The election to follow the registration is one of the most important ever held in the State. The forming of a State Constitution is a matter in which every citizen is deeply interested. Let all, therefore, who are not disqualified by the law, be sure to have their names registered and let them vote in the election according to their own judgment.

THE BANKRUPT LAW.

This law is a very long one—too long for insertion in our Daily; hence we copied from the New York Tribune a very copious abstract of it, said to have been carefully prepared by a legal gentleman. We have not had time to compare the abstract with the law. We, however, presume that it is sufficient for the general reader, though not adapted to the wants of legal gentlemen.—We would suggest to gentlemen of the profession, that our cotemporaries, Messrs. Engelhard & Price, of the Wilmington Journal, have printed the Bankrupt law in pamphlet form for the benefit of the profession and others who desire it.

A young legal friend calls our attention to an error in the abstract which we published, as important. He says:

"I write to call your attention to a mistake that I have observed in your compendium of the late Bankrupt Law. In your extract from Section 27, you use the following language: "Sec. 27 subdivides priority of claims as follows: First, servants' wages under $50. Second, All the creditors, pro rata, without any preference either from amount or date of claims, except that in cases wherein the bankrupt has become bail, surety or guarantor for another, the compliance of the latter with the conditions must be shown before the claim is allowed." It should read section 27 subdivides * * * * except that in cases wherein any person has become bail, surety or guarantor, for the bankrupt, a compliance by the former with the conditions of such undertaking must be shown before the claim is allowed."

The New York Tribune comments, in a double-leaded article, on the account of the recent meeting in Columbia, S. C., a full account of which we publish elsewhere, and regards the hearty fraternization of "such eminent chiefs of the late oligarchy as Gen. Wade Hampton, with the most capable and trusted negroes," and their "vieing with each other in expressions of mutual confidence and good will," as indicating the probability that every Southern State, but Texas, will promptly and cordially reorganize on the basis proposed by Congress, and have its delegation ready to take seats in Congress before the close of the year. The Tribune says: "The whites concede to the blacks every right they claim for themselves, while the blacks take the lead in asking Congress to repeal all disabling and disfranchising acts so as to allow the State to command the services of her ablest and most trusted citizens."

Let us hope that the most distinguished and effective Speakers in this State will imitate the excellent example of Gen. Hampton. The disenthralment of the colored race from the pernicious influence of the designing and selfish men who are endeavoring to array their prejudices against their true friends among the whites of the South, should be promptly effected, as, by the course we have suggested, it can be readily done.

Senator Wilson, of Massachusetts, has recently exhibited some gratifying evidences of conservative inclinations. His action in the Senate, on yesterday, (reported by telegraph,) relative to the speedy trial or release of Mr. Davis, will be hailed with commendation by all the lovers of justice in the country.

DISAPPOINTED.

Nothing can be more evident, than that the honest disposition of the great mass of the Southern people promptly to organize under the reconstruction measures of Congress, and to embrace, in good faith, the terms which they understand to be prescribed as a finality, is strongly dreaded by factionists who favor prolonged agitation for the most selfish and sinister purposes.—We say prescribed as a finality, for all the indications in and out of Congress, and all the public utterances of the press and of leading men at the North, give the assurance, that a true compliance, on the part of the Southern people, with the letter of the conditions imposed, will secure restoration and terminate the controversy. There are, beyond question, a few of the extreme Radicals, North, who refuse or hesitate to acknowledge that Congress is to be bound by its own propositions, but we believe that they will be powerless to change the popular verdict that the solemn promise of the Congress, based upon obedience to its commands, must and shall be fully and faithfully performed.

While there are, therefore, Radical agitators at the North, who are disappointed at the disposition of the South to close in, promptly, with the demands of Congress, because the success of their party or their own personal consequence and aspirations may thereby be imperilled, it is principally among a certain set of factionists of the South that this disappointment is most keenly felt. In the first place, they are grievously mortified at the terms of the Reconstruction Acts themselves. They have made so many loud professions of peculiar "loyalty," they have proclaimed themselves "the saints" with such sanctimonious and vehement protestation, they have set up such lofty pretensions of being "acceptable to Congress," and therefore the only proper persons to engage in the work of reconstruction, that they can hardly disguise their rage at a measure which disfranchises the large majority of themselves and bids them "take back seats." If they had it in their power, they would, to-morrow, undo the whole work of Congress. Unable to accomplish this, they would gladly hail any indication of stubbornness on the part of the people of the South,—any disposition to resist the mandates of Congress. They would be delighted at any exhibition of public opinion that promised further agitation, and, as its result, further hardship and suffering to the great mass of the people of the South, whom they hate, for no other reason than that the great mass of the people esteem them according to their deserts.

Congress showed wisdom and good sense in putting this class of men under the ban. By an investigation into their antecedents, it will be ascertained that four fifths of them, for the best part of their lives, sought to bring about a dissolution of the Union. After their teachings had succeeded, they backed down from motives of policy or fear.

CRAVEN ELECTION.

We clip the following from the Newbern Commercial, of yesterday, in order to correct the erroneous impressions made on our minds, on yesterday, by rumor and telegram, and which we embodied in our article. The Commercial doubtless gives the correct statement. Under the circumstances, we doubted the propriety of holding the election and advised that it should not be held, unless it had been advised by the military.

The Commercial says:

"The Election Yesterday.—The election to fill the vacancy in the State Senate, occasioned by the resignation of Hon. M. E. Manly, elected to the U. S. Senate, was conducted in a quiet and orderly manner.—Major John Hughes had no opposition, consequently there was no contest. But we understand that, under the advice of Col. Moore, head of the Bureau Department here, opposition was disarmed by his advice to the negroes and men of Northern birth, to refrain from voting pending the registration provided for by law. The advice was taken, and the election proceeded.

What would have been the result under other circumstances we, of course, cannot say. We only know that, at the Newbern box, Maj. Hughes received 180 votes, five of which were cast by negroes who insisted on voting, and none were for anybody else.

Latham's precinct gave 13 votes for Major Hughes."

STAMP DUTIES.

A correspondent, a few day ago, enquired of us in regard to the continuance of the duty on legal process. The following extract from the late Revenue law, as amended by the last Congress, we judge contains the requisite information on the subject:

Sec. 9. And be it further enacted, That the act entitled "An Act to provide internal revenue to support the government, and for other purposes," approved June thirty, eighteen hundred and sixty-four, as subsequently amended, be, and the same is hereby, amended as follows, viz:

That Schedule B, in relation to stamp duties named in section one hundred and fifty one, be amended by striking out of said schedule the words "legal documents," and all thereafter, and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "Provided, That the stamp duties imposed by the foregoing schedule (B) on manifests, bills of lading and passage tickets, shall not apply to steamboats or vessels plying between ports of the United States and ports of British North America: And provided further, That all affidavits shall be exempt from stamp duty."

Also, by inserting at the end of the last paragraph, relating to "probate of will," the following words: "Provided, That no stamps either for probate of wills or letters testamentary, or of administration or on administrator or guardian bond, shall be required when the value of the estate and effects, real and personal, does not exceed one thousand dollars: Provided, further, That no stamp tax shall be required upon any papers necessary to be used for the collection from the government of claims by soldiers or their legal representatives of the United States, for pensions, back pay, bounty, or for property lost in the service." The reduction of taxes provided in this section shall take effect on and after March one, eighteen hundred and sixty-seven.

Virginia State Debt.—We observe that we erred, on yesterday, in saying that the Virginia Legislature had passed a bill authorizing the payment of 2 per cent. on the interest of her State debt. We ought to have said 4 per cent.

THE LATE PROFESSOR JAMES PHILLIPS, D. D.

[We are permitted to make the following extracts from a letter written by a member of the late Dr. Phillips' afflicted family to a relative in this city. The letter, of course, was intended to be strictly private; but we suggested that, as a reliable narrative of the circumstances attending his death and as an affectionate tribute to his character, the extracts would afford a mournful pleasure to the numerous admirers and former pupils of the excellent man and scholar who is gone.—Eds. Sentinel.]

"The next morning (Thursday, 14th.,) he was graver than usual, and did not seem to relish his breakfast. As he was starting for prayers, (between 8 and 9 o'clock) his daughter remonstrated with him for not putting on a thicker coat, for the air was damp and bleak, and he went back and put on his Confederate grey, and let her button it up closely to his throat. About ten minutes afterwards, D. G. came running to school, saying that he was very sick at College.

* * * *

"I then saw students bearing him on a litter into his own house, and Professor Hepburn returned to tell me that he was dead. Yes, dead. Gone to join the everlasting song, with those who are gone before—gone to see no more "through a glass darkly," but, face to face, the verities of eternity. His sermon, last Sunday week, was from Amos 5, 6, "Seek the Lord and ye shall live." So he has gone to feel that life invigorating his whole nature. His sermon, last Sunday, was to have been from "Enter ye in at the strait gate, &c." Now he has gone to see where that gate leads.

* * They did not disturb his dress, but laid him on the lounge, amid the books that had been his daily and hourly companions for years and years—books written by men, whose spirits are now among the just made perfect, and who doubtless welcomed him home to glory. * * * *

"We all loved our father and he loved us. I thank God for giving me such a father, and for taking him away as He did, in a way so simple, so grand, so entirely consistent with his life and profession. * * It seems that Eugene Morehead was the last person to speak to him, and to hear his voice in reply. He found him sitting on a bench in the aisle between the two doors of the Chapel. He saluted him and received a customary good morning.—E. M. then passed out at the back door. He then went up on the rostrum, a thing unusual for him, for he commonly waited until the bell was nearly done ringing and talked with the students or whoever called the roll. Herbert Mallett next entered the Chapel, and, seeing him on the rostrum, called out, "Good morning, Doctor; you are early this morning." But he got no reply. On getting nearly opposite the desk, on the rostrum, he again saluted him; and, on his being still silent, H. M. looked at him more closely, and noticed that his face appeared unnatural, and that his position was unusual, (his feet being stretched out in front,) and that he appeared to be sliding down on the floor. He sprang to the rostrum, (calling for help as he ascended it,) but was too late to prevent him from falling down on his right side. Augustus Graham ran in, and, seeing him apparently fainting, ran off for Dr. Mallett, and gave an alarm as he ran. Another student (Mr. Call) ran off for Professor Hepburn, who was approaching from his residence to call the roll. When Prof. H. got to the Chapel, several students were around him, holding his head, (he was lying on the floor of the rostrum, with his head to the South) and rubbing his hands and limbs. Prof. H. threw some water in his face, and he gasped once, and then all was still, and forever.

H. Mallett heard him groan once as he was sliding from his seat. But Dr. Mallett, who got there very soon, thinks that he was dead even then, and from congestion of the lungs. * * * *

Very great interest has been expressed on all sides. The most common remark that I have heard was, "He never meddled with any body else's business" An old colored man went down stairs, from looking at him, with the remark, "There is not a colored man in this town but has shed his tear for old master." They buried him, on Saturday, in the clothes he wore when he fell—in a metallic coffin—from the Chapel, (all draped in black, as are also the Di Hall and Library,) after a most touching and scholarly tribute to his memory by Prof. Hepburn, in our graveyard, just in front, on the west side of his grand children. Here he lies, awaiting the great summons to arise to judgment.—But his soul hoped in God, while it inhabited his flesh, and now that flesh rests in hope that, when Jesus comes, them that sleep in Jesus He will bring with him.—What a grand death was his! The Professor and Preacher goes to the chapel, on his way to a recitation, to pray for and with his pupils, as he had prayed for the last forty years, and he falls at the altar, with the ringing of the bell calling these pupils to prayers as the last sound in his ear, the gathering of those pupils to prayer as the last sight in his eyes, and the preparation for that prayer as the last beating of his heart!

What mysteries are these castings of shadows by coming events. Oh! that we could always interpret them aright at the time. Those who notice such things were struck by the ardor with which he has of late prayed at the Chapel for preparation against sudden death. So, also, in his sermons, his tears have been abundant, as he besought his fellow men to be ready when the Master came. Miss ——— says she has noticed the tenderness with which, at family prayers, he prayed that God's aged servant might bear fruit to the last, and not be found asleep, or without a well filled and well trimmed lamp." * * * *

C. P.

The New Era.—There was a remarkable meeting yesterday at Columbia, the Capital of South Carolina—a gathering of colored men to rejoice over the passage of the Reconstruction Bill, which gives them the right of suffrage. It seems strange to read that among the speakers who came to appland and encourage these negroes were General Wade Hampton, Hon. William F. Desaussure, formerly United States Senator, Hon. Wm. Talley, Edward Arthur and James Gibbs, all eminent leading men of the State. Two colored men of note also made addresses, and the whole spirit of the meeting is represented to have been of the most cordial good feeling. Such a fact goes a great way to explode the studious misrepresentations of Southern feeling sent up or invented here by extremists. That in the heart of South Carolina—a State in which the blacks are largely in the majority—one of the foremost of the Confederate Generals, and himself once the largest slaveholder in the country, should meet his former chattels in this frank and manly style, and so unreservedly accept the situation, is a fact to outweight volumes of hostile invective and misrepresentation.—N. Y. Times, 19th.

THE MILITARY GOVERNMENT IN ALABAMA.

Montgomery, Ala., March 20.—General Granger, with a large number of prominent citizens, have issued a call for a public meeting here, on the 26th instant, in favor of reconstruction under the Sherman military government bill.

IMPORTANT PUBLIC LAWS.

For the information of our readers, and for the guidance of the Courts now being held, we publish below several highly important laws passed by the Legislature at its late session:

AN ACT GIVING TO THE COUNTY AND SUPERIOR COURTS AUTHORITY TO SENTENCE CRIMINALS TO WORK THE PUBLIC ROADS.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the Justices of the County Courts and Judges of the Superior Courts shall have power and authority, in all criminal cases within their jurisdiction, upon conviction of the defendant in all cases where the punishment already affixed by law to the offence does not extend to loss of life, to sentence the defendant to work in chain gangs upon the public roads of the county in which the offence was committed, or upon any Railroad or other work of internal improvement in the State, for such length of time as the Court, in the exercise of its discretion, may see fit, not exceeding one year.

Sec. 2. Be it further enacted, That for the management and safe keeping of said criminals, the County Courts, a majority of the acting justices being present, may elect one or more suitable persons, who shall be paid for their services by the day, or by the month or by the year, such compensation as said justices may deem just and reasonable, and that the said Courts shall have full power and authority to levy taxes on all subjects that are now taxed for county purposes to meet the payment of the same.

Sec. 3. Be it further enacted, That, in all cases where any criminal shall be sentenced upon any of the public roads, commonly called "dirt roads," leading through any section of the county, it shall be the duty of the court, at the expense of the county, to provide said criminals with good and wholesome food, and all necessary tools for the purpose of working said roads.

Sec. 4. Be it further enacted, That the several County Courts shall have full power and authority to make all necessary arrangements for the protection, safe keeping and comfort of all criminals thus employed, and in all cases where it may be necessary to do so, there being no houses within reach of the point where said work is being done, that can be procured for lodging said criminals at night, or to protect them from the weather when it is too inclement to work, that suitable tent-poles and cloths may be provided for the same, with such camp tools as may be necessary.

Sec. 5. Be it further enacted, That in all cases where the court may be of opinion that it is not necessary to confine said criminals in chain gangs, by fastening them with ball and chain, the court may sentence them to work said roads without being thus confined.

Sec. 6. Be it further enacted, That in all cases where it may be convenient to sentence said criminals to work upon any rail road or other work of internal improvement, in progress in the State, the court may, at its discretion, sentence any criminal to work upon any such works of internal improvement, and in addition to the time for which said criminals may be sentenced as a punishment for the offense, said criminals may be required to work out the fine and costs incurred by the county, together with any prison fees that may have been incurred for their confinement previous to their trial and conviction, said costs to be accounted for and settled with the said county, or such person as the court may appoint to receive the same, upon such terms as may be agreed upon with the directors or managers of said work of internal improvement.

Sec. 7. Be it further enacted, That if any prisoner shall make his escape and fail to discharge the work in consequence of his absconding or leaving the service of the county, before the expiration of the time for which he was sentenced to work, he shall be bound to serve double the deficient time, and may be re-captured by the sheriff at any time thereafter, and in all cases where said criminal shall abscond to any other or adjoining county, the clerk of the county court may, and he is hereby authorized to, issue to the sheriff of any county in the State a capias for his arrest.

Sec. 8. Be it further enacted, That in all cases where any criminal may be sentenced to labor on any work of internal improvements, the directors or managers thereof, in consideration of his service, shall furnish a guard or overseer for his safe keeping and control; and in addition thereto shall furnish them with lodging and board.

Sec. 8. Be it further enacted, That this act shall be in force and take effect from and after its ratification. Ratified March 2d, 1867.

AN ACT TO AMEND THE FIFTH CHAPTER OF THE REVISED CODE, ENTITLED "APPRENTICES."

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the 1st section of the 5th chapter of the Revised Code, entitled "Apprentices," be amended by striking out the words "also the children of free negroes where the parents, with whom such children may live, do not habitually employ their time in some honest, industrious occupation, and all free base born children of color," after the word "mother," in the 14th line, and insert, in lieu thereof, the words "and all base born children whose mothers may not have the means or ability to support them," and that the second section of said chapter be amended by striking out the words "if white, but if colored, till twenty-one," after the words "eighteen years," in the fourth line.

Sec. 2. Be it further enacted, That all indentures for the apprenticeships of infants heretofore made and entered into without a bond from the person to whom the infants were bound, be, and the same are hereby declared as valid and binding as though a bond had been given.

Sec. 3. Be it further enacted, That the 5th section of the said chapter be, and the same is hereby repealed, and that all other laws and parts of laws discriminating between whites and blacks in the apprenticing of children, be, and they are hereby repealed.

Ratified the 26th day of January, A. D., 1867.

AN ACT FOR THE RELIEF OF EXECUTORS, ADMINISTRATORS, &C.

Whereas, Many Executors, Administrators, Guardians, Sheriffs, Clerks of Courts, Trustees, and others holding offices or places of a fiduciary character, have, in the discharge of the duties of their offices or places, received, in good faith, Confederate money or currency or the Treasury notes issued by the State of North Carolina during the late war, or have invested funds thus in their hands in the bonds of the Confederate government, and the bonds of the State of North Carolina which have been repudiated, and may thereby have incurred individual liability by reason of said currency and bonds having become valueless in their hands, and whereas, owing to the general insolvency occasioned by the late war, it is expedient to enlarge the discretion of persons holding fiduciary positions in the settlement of claims contracted prior to May 1st, 1865:

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That Executors, Administrators, Guardians, Sheriffs, Constables, Coroners, Clerks of the Superior and County Courts, Clerks and Masters of the Courts of Equity, Trustees and others holding offices or places of a fiduciary character, shall not be held liable for having received in payment of any debt, demand; or claim of any description thus in their hands, or under their control, the currency of the Confederate government or of this State, or for having invested funds thus in their hands in the bonds of the Confederate government, or the bonds of this State which have been repudiated, but the same shall be presumed to have been thus received or invested in good faith, and no presumption of mala fides, or express, implied or constructive notice shall arise against them by reason of the progressive depreciation, or greater or less degree or amount of depreciation of said currency or bonds, Confederate or State.

Sec. 2. Be it further enacted, That in all trials of suits or other proceedings, either at law or in equity, in which the question of delinquence or negligence, whether of greater or less degree, shall arise, the same shall, on notice of either party to such suit or other proceedings, be submitted to a jury as a question of fact; such issue, when arising in a court of equity, to be made up and sent to a jury, under the direction of the court.

Sec. 3. Be it further enacted, That if any one of the persons mentioned in the first section of this act holding claims in a fiduciary character, due before May 1st, 1865, shall, in good faith and the exercise of reasonable diligence, compromise the same, by receiving less than their full amount, such person shall be chargeable only with the sum so received in the settlement of his accounts, unless it shall be shown that there was a want of good faith or due diligence in such compromise.

Sec. 4. Be it further enacted, That in all cases of contracts made for the purchase or sale of any species of property, real or personal, wherein any executor, administrator, guardian, or other person holding any office or place of a fiduciary character, shall be concerned, either as creditor or debtor, when any deduction shall be claimed by reason of said contract being founded on the Confederate or any other depreciated currency, or affidavit of that fact by the party claiming such deduction, it shall be lawful for such parties, creditors and debtors, each to choose one disinterested man, with power in them to choose an umpire, who, or a majority of whom, shall be authorized to assess, at its gold value, the property in reference to which said contract was made, at the time of making the same, and make a statement thereof in writing duly signed by them, and such award shall be conclusive and binding on the parties concerned, and a full protection to such executor, administrator, guardian, or other person so holding an office or place of a fiduciary character, and such persons are authorized to receive or pay the same, according to such award.

Sec. 5. Be it further enacted, That executors and administrators shall have power to prefer any creditor or creditors of the deceased persons whom they represent over all other creditors of equal dignity, though the creditor or creditors so preferred may not have commenced suit, and though such executor or administrator may have notice by suit commenced of the existence of other debts, equal in dignity to those so preferred, and such payments shall have like force and effect, and such personal representative shall, in all respects, be treated in law and equity, as though judgment had been confessed in favor of the preferred creditor or creditors, as now allowed by law.

Sec. 6. Be it further enacted, That this act shall be in force and take effect from and after its ratification.

Ratified March 2, 1867.

ATTRACTIVE STOCK.

McILWAINE & CO.,

Wholesale Dealers in Foreign and Domestic

Dry Goods, Notions & Clothing,

NO. 79 SYCAMORE, and

NO. 1 TABB STREETS,

PETERSBURG, VIRGINIA.

Take pleasure in announcing to the trade that they have in store, ready for exhibition, a large assortment of embracing all articles usually kept in wholesale establishments. Their long business experience with the merchants of

NEW SPRING GOODS,

has made them familiar with their wants; this, together with the advantages they possess in purchasing their supplies, enables them to offer goods at such prices as will insure satisfaction. They specially invite the attention of buyers to their extensive stock of manufactured expressly to their own order, which for style, workmanship and cheapness cannot be surpassed. They would also call attention to a full line of

NOTIONS,

All of which will be offered to purchasers on the very best terms, by Capt. Edward Graham and Mr. John McNeece, who have charge of the department.

NOTICE.

1867. NEW SPRING GOODS, 1867.

$40,000.00.

Forty Thousand Dollars Worth

OF THE MOST DESIRABLE AND

FASHIONABLE DRY GOODS

EVER OFFERED IN THIS MARKET, NOW OPENING AT

SMITH'S, 25 SYCAMORE STREET,

PETERSBURG, VA.

QUICK SALES AND SMALL PROFITS BEING now more than ever my firm conviction of the true way to success, I am determined to pursue this course, and as advertising is only effectual when it is real, I am also determined to advertise only such goods as are really on hand and in stock. Independent of the large stock of

DRY GOODS,

I have added a large stock of Cocoa and Straw Matting, Oil Cloths, Carpets, Lace and Damask Curtains, Table and Piano Covers, Lace Tidies, Bleached and Unbleached Satin-Damask and Snow-drop Table Linen, Napkins, Doilies Towels, Huckaback Linen Dowlas, Diaper and Birdseye Diapers in great variety. All kinds of white goods—such as Dressed and Undressed Jackonets and Cambric, Checked Muslins, Nainsooks—plain and checked, Mull-Muslins, Swisses, plain, checked, dotted and embroidered, Organdies and Granadines, Book Muslins, Tarletons—white and colored.

Also, a full assortment of LACES AND EMBROIDERIES, from the finest real Point Lace Collar, worth $25, to the lowest Imitation lace, worth 25 cents. A full assortment of Bands, Edging and Flouncings—Cambric, Jackonet, Nainsook and Linen.

Also, the most extensive stock of IRISH LINEN in Virginia.

Full lines of Linen and Muslin HANDKERCHIEFS, in plain hemstitch and fancy; do. embroidered and Lace trimmed, from 25 cents to $12,-50 each.

The most complete stock of Spring MANTLES ever offered in this market, is now opened, embracing some forty different styles, and all new. This cannot fail to be a most interesting feature of our business to the ladies.

The stock of LADIES' DRESS GOODS, embraces all the new fabrics to be found at the most reasonable rates.

The SILK stock is far larger than any in the State, and commands our especial attention. The encomiums the ladies have heretofore passed on this stock, as compared with anything they had seen, leaves us without anything to say, more than it is now larger and more complete than it has ever been. No lady wishing to buy Silks should do so, without first examining this stock.

The assortment of CLOTHS, CASSIMERES AND LINEN GOODS, for Spring wear, is entirely complete, embracing the largest Stock of its kind, and at the most moderate prices.

The largest and finest stock of GLOVES AND HOSIERY ever offered, is now being opened, embracing everything in the line, from the finest Alexander's Kid gloves, to the lowest grades.—Hosiery in endless variety, embracing every kind and for every age.

I have also added the most complete assortment of SMALL WARES, NOTIONS, TRIMMINGS, &c.

The WHOLESALE STOCK is complete in every respect, and is the largest I have ever offered, being bought exclusively for Cash.

Great inducements will be offered for the Cash.

Samples will be sent by mail free of charge on application, with prices marked on each, thereby enabling those who cannot visit our city, to make their selections at home—at as low prices as if they were present.

FERTILIZERS

FOR SPRING CROPS.

We beg to inform the trade and planters of North Carolina and Virginia, that we are prepared to furnish them with the most approved FERTILIZERS, on the most accommodating terms. We will have a stock of genuine PERUVIAN GUANO, purchased direct from the Agent of the Peruvian government.

We have now in store, for immediate delivery, 325 tons BRADLEY'S SUPER PHOSPHATE OF LIME, which won for itself such an enviable reputation in the Cotton and Tobacco counties of North Carolina and Virginia, last season, proving itself equal to the Peruvian Guano. We give an analysis of it as ascertained by Dr. Hayes, one of the most eminent Chemists in the country:

Results of Analyses Made of Bradley's Patent Super-Phosphate of Lime, as now sold by Wm. L. Bradley.

100 Parts Consist of
Moisture	5.50
Prepared animal matter, salts of Ammonia, fatty substances and Humus	39.50
Bone Phosphates of Lime, Magnesia and Iron	36.80
(Soluble Phosphates of do. 16 6-10.)
Sulphate of Lime	16.50
Salts	20
Insoluble	1.60
	99.90

The animal matter afforded 4 2-10 parts of Ammonia when it was decomposed, and, as will be seen, nearly one-half of the Bone Phosphate is soluble.

After many analyses of your Super-Phosphate of Lime, made during the last few months, I have found your standard of quality full equal to that of any you have ever sold in former years; and I am satisfied that you include the correct principles in the manufacture. Respectfully,

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

We refer to the following gentlemen who tested its merits last season:

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Creech is indefatigably enterprising in his efforts to accommodate the public. He makes an attractive announcement to-day.

Do not fail, daily, to read the advertisements of Mitchell, Allen & Co., of Newbern. It will pay.

Messrs. Weatherly & Coe, of Greensboro, advertise valuable inventions,—the "Apple Parer, Cutter and Corer," and the "Peach Parer and Cutter." See advertisement.

MAYOR'S COURT.—Eli Dampier: Charged with stealing a horse from William Barnes, of Harnett County; bound to the Superior Court in a bond of $300. Failed to give security for his appearance, and was committed to jail.

Jacob Stumpf, Company I., 5th Cavalry: Charged with stealing a decanter of Port Wine from J. J. Overby. Lodged in the guard house last night.

Wm. Jones, Co. K., 8th Infantry: Intoxicated on Fayetteville Street. Found last night by the Captain of the Night Police, Capt. Moss, lying on the side walk, opposite the Market Square. Lodged in Guard House last night. Both the latter turned over to the Military this morning.

Richard Debnam: Lodged in the guard house for being intoxicated on the street.—Fined $2.

MECKLENBURG FEMALE COLLEGE.—We invite attention to the announcement of this institution in another column. It is under most excellent management, and the buildings are extensive and commodious. While the best religious influence will be exerted, the college is not sectarian,—four of the leading denominations being represented on the Board of Trustees and in the Faculty. Daughters of deceased soldiers will be educated at reduced rates; which is a generous and commendable feature.

WE ARE requested to state that the Rev. W. M. Wingate, D. D., President of Wake Forest College, will preach in the Baptist Church to-morrow, at 11 o'clock A. M., and 7 o'clock P. M.

STATE ITEMS.

——TEMPERANCE MEETING.—A meeting of the representatives of subordinate Councils will convene at Henderson, on Tuesday, the 2nd day of April, for the organization of a State Council of the FRIENDS OF TEMPERANCE.

The appointment was first announced for 16th of April, at Raleigh, but has since been changed, both as to time and place of meeting. We learn that Maj. Hill, of Louisburg, Gen. R. B. Vance, of Asheville, Rev. Jno. N. Andrews, of Wilmington, and other prominent friends of the cause, will be in attendance.

——The Tarboro' Southerner states that the whole number of suits brought at the late term of Edgecombe Superior Court was 775. Of this number 300 paid the one tenth, and about 80 settled in full. About 40 judgments by default were taken, and in the remainder pleas of every description were entered, thus staving off judgment for twelve months.

——The Salisbury Old North State says that robberies are becoming quite frequent in some parts of Rowan. As many as thirteen occurred in one night about five miles south of Salisbury,—thus indicating an organized band engaged in such lawlessness.

——A serious accident happened at the Charlotte Fair Ground Hospital, on Wednesday. A freedman was on the top of the building knocking loose some timbers, and let his axe fall, which struck a Mr. Jones, who was on the ground below, on the head, the edge of the axe entering the back part of it, cutting him severely. Mr. Jones lies in a very critical situation.

——Eighteen car loads of guano and other fertilizers passed through Goldsboro', on Thursday, from the port of Wilmington.

——JUDGE FOWLE.—The Wilmington Journal has learned the following in regard to the action of Judge Fowle in his Courts on the collection of debts. It will be seen that, under his ruling, debtors are not so severely pressed as many anticipated. The Journal says:

"We learn from a gentleman in attendance on Richmond Superior Court, this week, that Judge Fowle paid no regard to the Stay Law passed by the General Assembly at its late session, but his ruling in regard to the collection of debts was that where the defendant paid one-tenth, the proceedings were stayed until Spring Term, 1868, in accordance with the Ordinance of the Convention, but when the defendant did not pay one-tenth, attorneys were permitted to put in pleas which stood for trial at Spring Term, 1868, so that collection could not be forced until Spring Term, 1869, in any event."

HO! TO THE PUBLIC!!!

NOW, THAT ALL SHALL WORK FOR THEIR bread is a lesson divinely taught, and the truth of which is sorely felt and urged by the hard times that are upon us. labor-saving machines have a greater claim to the attention of the laborer than, perhaps, ever before.

W. A. Coe's "Apple Parer, Cutter, and Corer" patented Feb. 19th, 1867," and his "Peach Parer and Cutter," patented "Oct. 30th, 1860," are some of the things needed by the times, and are now offered to the patronage of the public. The Apple Parer, Cutter, and Corer is cheap, portable and simple in its parts, and can, by a little practice, be well worked by a child ten or twelve years old. By trial, it has proved a capacity to Pare, Cut, and Core Thirty Bushels of Apples in a day, and to do this, by the control of one person. The Peach Parer and Cutter is similar in its parts, with the working tools adapted to the difference of the fruit and work to be done. It is as readily worked as the first named, and will do the amount of work of six hands in a given time, managed by one person.

Propositions for shop, county or State rights for the manufacture and sale of these machines, will be entertained by either of the undersigned.

VALUABLE LANDS AND MILLS FOR SALE.

NOT being able to attend to my Mills and Farms on Little River, I now offer them for sale. They are located 3 miles above Lowell Cotton Factory and 5 miles from the N. C. R. Road in Johnston County. The said tract contains about well timbered land, containing enough open land for a 3 or 4 horse Farm, with a comfortable dwelling and all necessary out houses requisite to a farm.

The soil is well adapted to the growth of Cotton and Corn, with ample facility for improvement.

Also, connected with said farm a GRIST MILL, with two pair of stones, and a SAW MILL, all in running order, with water power enough to drive a Cotton Factory!

Also, one other tract, lying on Buffalo Swamp, containing about 500 acres cleared land, enough for a 5 or 6 horse Farm, with low grounds drained by a seventy feet canal with all other ditches necessary. Will make, if well cultivated, 400 or 500 barrells of corn. The upland is well adapted to the growth of Cotton and Corn, with every facility for improvement.

CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, March 22, P. M.

In the House, the relief bill was passed. It authorizes the Secretary of War, through the Freedman's Bureau, to furnish food to all classes, sufficient to prevent starvation and extreme want.—The relief is to come from the unexpended moneys of the appropriation for freedmen and refugees, and the expenditures shall not extend beyond the appropriation already made.

The case of Mr. Smythe and the New York Custom House was ventilated.

The committee on expenditures were ordered to take evidence and report articles impeaching Mr. Smith.

The Senate bill, authorizing the Secretary of War to issue to Gov. Brownlow arms and equipments for 25,000 militia, was amended, making it 10,000, and passed.

In the Senate, a petition for the strict enforcement of the laws in Utah was referred to the committee on Territories.

Mr. Wilson introduced a concurrent resolution regarding Mr. Davis. It concludes that common justice, sound public policy, and the national honor, unite in recommending his speedy trial or release on bail. Laid over.

Mr. Wilson will endeavor to get a vote on it before the adjournment.

A bil authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to discharge the Direct Tax Collectors in the South, and imposing their duties on the Revenue Collectors, passed.

HON. A. H. GARLAND.

WASHINGTON, March 23.

Hon. A. H. Garland, ex-member of the Confederate Congress, and whose case brought out the opinion of the Supreme Court abolishing the test oath as to attornies, is here. He will apply for a seat as a Senator from Arkansas, and on rejection will bring the matter before the Supreme Court.

GENERAL LEE ON THE SITUATION.

RICHMOND, March 23.

It is authoritatively stated that Gen. Lee is strongly in favor of the people voting for a Convention, and that every man not actually disfranchised should not only take the necessary steps to prepare himself to vote, but he should urge his friends, both white and colored, to prepare themselves to vote.

DIED.

Very suddenly, at the residence of Col. Thomas D. Meares, near Rowan Mills, in Rowan county, on Wednesday, the 20th. inst., Col. JAMES I LONG, aged 70. He left Salisbury in the morning apparently in good health to attend a sale at Col. Meares, but died soon after his arrival there of disease of the heart.

In Salem, on Thursday, the 14th. inst., of Consumption, EDWIN T. BOSER, aged 33 years and 9 days.

A CARD.

NUMEROUS inquiries have been made of me recently, as to the time when the second edition of my Book of Forms will appear, and I think it probable that other inquiries will be hereafter made. I have deemed it best to relieve myself from the necessity of writing many letters on the subject to gentlemen of the legal profession, in different parts of North Carolina, by stating in a card, addressed to the public, that I expect to place my manuscripts in the hands of the printer about the middle of May next, and I have reason to believe that the printing and binding can be completed by the first of July next.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Supplemental Reconstruction Bill—Another Veto Forthcoming—The Maryland Senatorship—Nominations—Court Costumes to be Prohibited.

[Special Dispatch to the Baltimore Sun.]

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The supplemental reconstruction bill, passed by Congress, was received to day by the President. There is good reason for believing that Mr. Johnson will return the bill to Congress to-morrow, or next day at the farthest, with a brief veto, in which he will set forth that some of the same objections apply to this supplemental act as were set forth in his message disapproving the original bill of last session, and that therefore he cannot give it his approval.

It is understood that Mr. Johnson would have signed the bill had it been confined to the simple purpose of designating and defining the duties of the officer whose duty it should be to initiate the work under the act of March 2, but he regards the bill passed yesterday as going beyond that purpose.

Should the vote be received this week, the pressure for an adjournment early next week will be irresistible, the probabilities being largely in favor of a recess until October.

It appears to be now settled that the case of Governor Thomas, Senator elected from Maryland, will go over to the next meeting of Congress for decision, unless the present session shall extend into the latter part of next week. The matter was before the judiciary committee this morning, and was postponed to next Saturday.

Gen. Bassett Langdon was confirmed to-day as assessor of the first district of Ohio, after one of the most persistent efforts to defeat a nomination that has taken place this season. He was twice rejected on political grounds, but his military record and high character as an honest, upright citizen finally prevailed over the opposition.

Senator Sumner reported from the committee on foreign relations, to-day, a joint resolution prohibiting the representatives of this government at foreign courts from wearing any costume or uniform not heretofore authorized by law. The resolution was passed, and is intended to break up the custom now become very prevalent among our ministers, in complying with the demands of court etiquette to such a degree that the American citizen is entirely lost sight of.

The only costume which this law will permit will be that of a plain American gentleman, or if the representative has been in the military service, the uniform of the highest grade which he may have attained in that service, the wearing of which by ex-officers, on state and public occasions, was authorized by the late Congress.

Gen. Steadman has been nominated for collector of internal revenue for the first district of Louisiana.

CONFISCATION.—The New York Times says:

Mr. Thaddeus Stevens confiscation project meets scant favor among the extremists of his party. The Chicago Tribune, one of the most vigorous and unyielding of radical journals, has taken strong ground against it, declaring that it is entitled to no encouragement, and that the Western people do not tolerate it. The same tone prevades the comments of nearly the entire republican press on the subject.

CONSTITUTIONALITY OF THE TENNESSEE FRANCHISE LAW.—Nashville, Tenn., March 20.—The Supreme Court of Tennessee will render a dicision to-morrow in cases involving the constitutionality of the State franchise law. It is looked to with much interest by all parties. There are no indications as to what it will be.

The sick Radical newspapers at the South are fed on Congressional grub.

Ministers can now preach in Missouri without taking the "iron-clad" oath.

It is said that Jenny Lind will soon visit this country again.

WILLIAM H. OLIVER & Co.'s,

COTTON FERTILIZER,

PREPARED BY

WILLIAM H. OLIVER & CO.

Newbern, N. C.

After consulting the wants of our agricultural friends, and calling the most practical, as well as scientific aid to our assistance, we have prepared a Fertilizer that we are fully persuaded will satisfy all who make use of it, of its immense profit and advantages in the growth of all kinds of plants, particularly in the growth, expansion and boiling of Cotton.

The composition is no secret, and is known to most of our friends. Fifty per cent. of Genuine Peruvian Guano (purchased direct from the agent of the Peruvian Government,) constitutes the ammoniacal. Twenty-five per cent. of finely ground Bones the Phosphate—the balance is made up of such ingredients as have the power of fixing the ammonia.

No dirt, or water will be added to increase its weight. It is pure as represented, and all practical farmers know by experience the effect the above agents will produce.

An application of two hundred pounds to the acre, we feel confident, will double the product of land suited to the growth of Cotton.

We recommend the following as the best mode of applying the Fertilizer: Apply one hundred and twenty-five pounds to the acre at the time the Cotton is planted by covering it in the drill, and apply one hundred and twenty-five pounds on the side of the Cotton after the Cotton has been barred out, at the time of thinning.

WILLIAM H. OLIVER & CO.

We would call attention to the following:

We have been shown by Messrs. WILLIAM H. OLIVER & Co., a preparation made by them, and known as WILLIAM H. OLIVER & Co.'s Cotton Fertilizer.

The mode of preparing it, the material used, the proportions, &c., were fully explained to us, and we most unhesitatingly recommend it, as a most excellent Fertilizer.

The price of each article used in its manufacture was given, and we find, by calculation, the actual cash value of the ingredients used to be seventy dollars and fifty cents for each ton.—Messrs. OLIVER & Co. assure us that the proportions of the material used, and the mode of manufacture as explained to us, shall be maintained, and their standing will, we think, be a sufficient guarantee that their promises will be fulfilled:

We are prepared to furnish any quantity of the above Fertilizer at $75 per ton of 2000 pounds.

The Fall Session of this Institution closed 23rd. day of December. The spring Session opened the 1st. Wednesday in January, and will continue 20 weeks.

The success of this school has been without a parallel. A new building has just been completed, by which a large additional number can be accommodated. We are determined to make our pupils as comfortable as they can be made anywhere, and to afford them all the advantage for a thorough and extensive education, that can be found at any First class Female College, North or South.

The location is a most delightful one. The Mineral Water is too well known to the whole country to need a remark. Even invalid young ladies may secure a thorough education, and at the same time the restoration of their health. Reference is made to every intelligent Physician in the State, as well as to the hundreds who have found relief here.

The young ladies all worship in the College Chapel, and hence no extra clothing is required.—In the single item of dress parents can save 25 per cent. of the entire expense incurred by sending to Boarding Schools located in cities or villages. This Institution is certainly one of the cheapest and most easy of access in the Southern States.—Besides, it offers the most superior advantages in every respect.

SUNDAY READING.

WANT OF RELIGIOUS FERVOR.

The prayer of Paul for his brethren at Ephesus is at once most comprehensive in its scope and most fervent in its spirit. Let us follow him to the throne of grace and hear its hallowed accents: "For this cause I bow my knee unto the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, of whom the whole family in heaven and earth is named—that He would grant you, according to the riches of His glory, to be strengthened with might by His spirit in the inner man—that Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith—that ye, being rooted and grounded in love, may be able to comprehend with all saints, what is the breadth and length and depth and height, and to know the love of Christ which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled with all the fullness of God."

How intense the interest of Paul, how enlarged his desires, for the spiritual welfare of these brethren. Should we not accept it as a rebuke to ourselves if we regard the perseverance and progress of Christians around us with frigid unconcern, or, at best, with luke-warm affection? Should we not be alarmed and confounded by it, if we feel and ask for ourselves, less than he asked and felt for others? What! Is it that our souls stand in need of these mighty succors of grace—is it that all these unspeakable riches of Divine glory are offered to our souls—and we slumber over a cause so momentous, and permit it to go against us by sheer default? Shame on the insensibility which does not find itself constrained to cherish, on the question of personal salvation, a solicitude more tender, deep, habitual, importunate, than ever dwelt, in human bosom on the question of a salvation which it was not to experience?

Never was there a time when this insensibility was less without excuse. Now, when the judgements of God are abroad in the land—when the ravages of war join the flight of time to shorten the lives of men—when the hearts of men are hardened against the sense of sacred things, not by the accustomed snares of sin alone, but also by the mightier temptations of war—now, if ever, we should be found watching unto prayer, wrestling in prayer, for the gift of God's grace to ourselves and others. It we sleep now, we deserve, a thousand times over, to share the fate of those who perish through our neglect, and we must undergo the sorest chastisement, which God ever inflicts on those whom, in spite of guiltiness, He gathers into His kingdom. Oh, let us catch the loving, pitying, laboring spirit of Jesus. Nothing else can arrest the downward tendency of souls in such a crisis as this, or save Zion from the reproach of being inefficient when efficiency is most demanded, or turn aside from ourselves the shaft of a long-suffering Master's severest rebuke for the loitering, idle, useless servant.—Religious Herald.

THE PASSWORD.

One day, says an English writer, having to go down to St. Katherine's docks from the city, I thought I should save a little journey by going through the Tower of London. So I entered the gates at the west end, and walked along some distance, passing through archways and over drawbridges, till at last I approached the high walls that run along the eastern boundary of the Tower precincts. The place where I had to go was only just the other side of this wall, and I had but to pass through the gateway before me, and I should arrive at my destination. But at this gateway I found a policeman stationed, who opened and shut the door as the people passed to and fro; and I noticed that he spoke to each person as he came up, before he let him through.

On coming up to the gateway the policeman stopped me and thus accosted me:—"The password, if you please, sir." "The password! I have no password to give you," I replied. "Then I cannot allow you to pass," said he. "But my business is urgent, and I have but to go to these docks; you'll let me out surely?" "No, sir, I cannot." I tried to persuade him, but he was inflexible. "It is more than my place is worth," said he; "I dare not let any one through without the password."

Seeing that all expostulation was useless, I turned around with no other alternative than that of going all the way back and walking around—altogether a walk of some distance. As I returned, my mortification was not a little increased at seeing others coming up, and on giving the password, at once allowed to go through.

In this simple incident, what an illustration we have, thought I, of another journey and the entrance of the Heavenly city.

How important that we should know the password!

Let us try to picture the scene. The gate is guarded, people are coming to seek for admittance. Here is one, who, with confident step, marches up to the gate, and loudly knocking, demands an entrance.—The password is required. "O," says he, "don't you know who I am? why, I'm well known as a man of generosity. I have made good use of my wealth in relieving distress, promoting the cause of religion, and establishing churches. And thank God, I can say, I have never offended either the laws of my country or the commands of my God. I am not one of those who have sunk into sin. So undo the gates and let me enter."

But the answer is, "The gates cannot be opened, as you have not given the password."

Then up comes another. He is not so respectable a man as the former. "No," says he, "I cannot justify myself; for I am a sinner indeed, my soul is guilty, and I have no good works to bring; but I've repented of my sins; behold my tears, my sighs, my groans, my prayers! O, sir, are not these enough to gain for me an entrance into the Celestial City?

Ah! the gates are still fast closed, because he cannot give the password.

But look again. There is one coming with trembling step and eyes cast down—he is afraid almost to approach the gate.—At last he gives a gentle rap. It is asked, "Who art thou?" "I'm a poor undone sinner," saith he; "I come for mercy."—"What is your plea? Do you know the password!" "JESUS ONLY," cries the penitent. And no sooner do the words escape his lips, than the pearly portals fly open, and ten thousand voices fill the air, "Come in, come in, poor man, thrice welcome!"

Thus it is, dear readers, till we have been enabled to say from our inmost soul "Jesus only," we have not yet learned "heaven's password." It is not merely taking these words upon our lips, or even having a head knowledge of the fact that Jesus only can save the soul, that will admit us into heaven; but it is a real heartfelt experience of the truth, that we as sinners can do nothing, either to cleanse from sin, or to clothe with righteousness; but that for all this we must trust in "JESUS ONLY."

Point and pith of the prayers delivered in Congress of late—"O Lord, Thou knowest that the majority is always right and the minority wrong; bless the majority and curse the minority, and Thou shalt have our good opinion and thanks."—Boston Post.

THE BANKRUPT LAW,

The Act to Establish an Uniform System of Bankruptcy Throughout the United States—What the Bill Is—What it Provides.

The substance of this most important bill just passed by the Senate and House, and approved by the President, will be found as follows in the summary that we give:

Section 1. establishes the several District Courts of the United States as courts of bankruptcy, in addition to the other original jurisdiction they now have.

Section 2. gives the Circuit Courts equity power to supervise the proceedings of the District Courts in bankruptcy litigation and affairs, and in addition to this power gives them concurrent jurisdiction in the same matters.

Section 3. provides for the appointment in each Congressional District, upon the nomination of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, of one or more registers (to be counsellors in the District Courts,) whose duty it shall be to assist the District Judges in the performance of duty in bankruptcy cases. Bonds in $1,000, no interest in any of the suits, and ability to take the iron-clad oath, are the pre-requisites of each register.

Section 4 makes it the register's duty to adjudicate upon, receive surrenders in, and preside in bankruptcy proceedings. He is to compute property, dividends, assign pro rata shares to creditors, but bars him from committing for contempt or in acting in cases that go upon appeal.

Section 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10 provide for the formula of legal proceedings in the Courts of Bankruptcy, a recapitulation of the practice now in vogue in other litigation.

Section 11 makes $300 the limit of debts on which to declare voluntary bankruptcy, requires the bankrupt to be or to become a citizen of the United States, forbids a transfer of property during pendency of proceedings, and demands full exhibit of debts and assets on the part of the voluntary bankrupt.

Section 12, 13, and 14 provide that the action in bankruptcy shall go on should the bankrupt die, the same as if he were in esse; that the creditors shall appoint an assignee or assignees of the debtor's estate, subject to the approval of District Judge; that everything be turned over to assignees, whether of substance or account, for distribution, except: That there shall be excepted from the operation of the provisions of this section the necessary household and kitchen furniture, and such other articles and necessaries of such bankrupt as the said assignee shall designate and set apart, having reference in the amount to the family, condition, and circumstances of the bankrupt, but altogether not to exceed in value in any case, the sum of $500; and also the wearing apparel of such bankrupt and that of his wife and children, and the uniform, arms, and equipments of any person who is or has been a soldier in the militia or in the service of the United States, and such other property as now is, or hereafter shall be, exempted from attachment or seizure, or levy on execution by the laws of the United States, and such other property, not included in the foregoing exceptions, as is exempted from levy and sale upon execution or other process or order of Court, by the laws of the State in which the bankrupt has his domicil at the time of the commencement of the proceedings in bankruptcy, to an amount not exceeding that allowed by such State exemption laws in force in the year 1864: Provided, That the foregoing exception shall operate as a limitation upon the conveyance of the property of the bankrupt to his assignees, and in no case shall the property hereby excepted pass to the assignees, or the title of the bankrupt thereto be impaired or affected by any of the provisions of this act; and the determination of the assignees in the mattter shall, on exception taken, be subject to the final decision of the said Court.

Sections 15, 16, 17 and 18, give the assignee full power to recover the property of the debtor, to be distributed by whomsoever held; require him to classify and separate the goods or other effects, empower the assignee to choose arbitrators in matters of disputed possession; and provide for the supervision over and power to remove the assignees by the district judge for cause shown.

Sections 19, 20 and 21, ordain that claims be proved in the same manner as now against the estate of deceased persons; provide for set-offs in mutual debts between debtor and claimants; forbid suits against the bankrupt by those creditors proving their claims, and provide that if any bankrupt shall, at the time of adjucation, be liable upon any bill of exchange, promissory note or other obligation in respect of distinct contracts as a member of two or more firms carrying on separate and distinct trades, and having distinct estates to be wound up in bankruptcy, or as a sole trader and also as a member of a firm, the circumstance that such firms are in whole or in part composed of the same individuals, or that the sole contractor is also one of the joint contractors, shall not prevent proof and receipt of dividend in respect of such distinct contracts against the estates respectively liable upon such contracts.

Section 27 subdivides priority of claims as follows: First. Servants' wages under $50. Second. All the creditors pro rata, without any preference either from amount or date of claims, except that in cases wherein the bankrupt has become bail, surety or guarantor for another, the compliance of the latter with the conditions must be shown before the claim is allowed.

At the expiration of three months from the date of the adjudication of bankruptcy in any case, or as much earlier as the court may direct, the court, upon request of the assignee, shall call a general meeting of the creditors, of which due notice shall be given, and the assignee shall then report and exhibit to the court and to the creditors just and true accounts of all his receipts and judgments, verified by his oath; and he shall also produce and file vouchers for all payments for which vouchers shall be required by any rule of the court; he shall also submit the schedule of the bankrupt's creditors and property as amended, duly verified by the bankrupt, and a statement of the whole estate of the bankrupt as then ascertained, of the property recovered and of the property outstanding, specifying the cause of its being outstanding, also what debts or claims are yet undetermined, and stating what sums remain in his hands. At such meeting the majority in value of the creditors present shall determine whether any and what part of the net proceeds of the estate, after deducting and retaining a sum sufficient to provide for all undetermined claims which, by reason of the distant residence of the creditor, or for other sufficient reason, have not been proved, and for other expenses and contingencies, shall be divided among the creditors; but unless at least one half in value of the creditors shall attend such meeting, either in person or by attorney, it shall be the duty of the assignee so to determine. In case a dividend is ordered, the Register shall, within ten days after such meeting, prepare a list of creditors entitled to dividend, and shall calculate and set opposite to the name of each creditor who has proved his claim, the dividend to which he is entitled out of the net proceeds of the estate set apart for dividend, and shall forward by mail to every creditor a statement of the dividend to which he is entitled, and such creditor shall be paid by the assignee in such manner as the court may direct.

FERTILIZERS.

PERUVIAN GUANO SUBSTITUTE!

BAUGH'S

RAW BONE SUPER-PHOSPHATE OF LIME.

Manufactured under the formula originated in 1834 and patented by

BAUGH & SONS,
SOLE PROPRIETORS, AT THE
Delaware River Chemical Works,
PHILADELPHIA, U. S. A.

This old established MANURE is manufactured from Bones that have not been burned or steamed and it contains all their original organic matter. It is active in its operation, and is a fertilizer of great durability. It does not exhaust the soil like Peruvian Guano, but on the contrary permanently improves it.

Previous to 1861 it was introduced into the Southern States to considerable extent, and again in 1865, where it has been used with remarkable success upon Cotton, Corn, Tobacco, and all Crops.

A trial will convince any planter of its merits. Pamphlets containing well-know Southern evidence furnished upon application to New York or Philadelphia offices.
